

bookend bench

bookend bench

Bookend is a curved seating system that may be fabricated to any radius required. The combination of curved and straight timber slats also helps to keep costs down.

A range of seat combinations are available, including backrests, armrests and alternative leg materials such as granite.

The seat has a galvanised steel frame, with various finishes available to tailor the product to your scheme. Hardwood timber seat slats make this a comfortable and hardwearing seating solution.
